Solitaire Maniac is the ultimate collection of the most beautiful solitaire games for Windows 95/98/ME/NT/2000 and XP. It is the collection of spectacular tableau images, melodic music and nice graphics. If you haven't tried any computer based solitaire game this game is for you. If you have tried some and found them a bit boring this game is for you, too.

The version you can download from this site contains the most popular 27 games, all fully functional. You can enlarge this collection to 202 different games (255 variations - most other collections consider these standalone games) by registering Solitaire Maniac.

Solitaire Maniac rise above similar games for several reasons:

- rotated and smooth high quality card graphics no other collections have,
- more than 5 minutes of original digitized music (during game selection and Top 50 listing),
- several digitized card faces available (not just backs!),
- each game has a Top 50 list that can be refreshed from the Internet,
- some other handy features such as intelligent Auto Complete and Boss Key.

We release new versions every 2 months, each version includes improvements and dozens of new games, so it's the fastest growing collection available. Registered users are entitled to use all new versions for free.

New in version 1.4:

- 42 new games (3 new free games),
- Favorites panel in the game selection dialog,
- Top50 refresh from Internet works smoothly now.

A very simple old DOS game from 1993. Mahjongg and Alphabet tilesets. Hint and "sound". I'm sure the graphics were good that time... The screenshot is from v.1.1 made in 1989 (I never got the 1.2 version to work on my PC). Update: 1.2 is playable under DOSBOX. Shareware ($15), but the company (TEGL Systems Corporation) is not alive anymore, therefore I list it as abandonware. Download v.1.1 here (81 kb). Author: Richard Tom.
